

UNC HISTORY RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

The resources and opportunities below are available for history students and awarded through the History Department or other sources on campus:

Senior Honors Thesis Program Awards

Each year, History majors have the chance to develop a substantial work of original research working closely with a History department adviser. Deadline: Late February (for the 2018-19 class)

As part of the program, admitted students can seek funding for travel and other research-related expenses from the Michael L. and Matthew L. Boyatt Award (administered through History, deadlines in March/September); the Anthony Kusa Undergraduate Research Award (administered through History, deadline March); and Honors Carolina. Deadline: late September each academic year.

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships

Over the last decade or more, students working with History department faculty have won numerous SURF awards from the Office of Undergraduate Research. Deadline: approx. February 2018

Robinson Honors Fellows

Robinson Honors Fellowships provide up to $6000 for travel abroad history of Europe and the Mediterranean from the golden age of Greece to the upheaval of World War I. Deadline: 30 January 2018.

Office of Undergraduate Research: Conference Travel

The Office of Undergraduate Research provides funds of up to $500 for undergraduate travel to present work at a professional conference in their field, including History. Deadline: before the 15th of every month
